Group exercise: who does what?

The actors: who speaks for the EU?

The infographic is divided into two main color-coded sections: yellow for the European Commission and blue for the European Council. At the top, portraits of Ursula von der Leyen (President of the European Commission) and Charles Michel (President of the European Council) are shown. The central text reads: "shall ensure the consistency of the Union's external action...".

Left Side (Yellow):

- shall be one of the Vice Presidents of the Commission,
- Common Commercial Policy
- Development
- Migration
- Humanitarian Assistance
- Supranational - TFEU

Right Side (Blue):

- shall 'conduct the Union's common foreign and security policy
- Common Foreign and Security Policy (CFSP)
- Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP)
- Intergovernmental - TEU

Logos for the European Commission and the European External Action Service (EEAS) are also present. The EIPA logo is in the bottom left, and "© EIPA 2022 5" is in the bottom right.

Borrell says he's not to blame for controversial EU statement on Venezuela

EU foreign policy chief faces criticism in Parliament for allegedly letting down opposition leader Juan Guaidó.

Borrell told MEPs that it wasn't him but rather EU countries and the difficult procedures of the Council of the EU, where foreign policy decisions require unanimity, that were to blame for the phrasing.

"The text you are referring is not a statement [by myself] but ... a unanimous statement by the 27 EU member states," the former Spanish foreign minister told Parliament. "They are the ones who approved this communication which sets out the position of the Council."
