Dimensions of UK-EU relations: continua of cooperation

Regulation

alignment v. divergence

Functional cooperation

association v. alternative

Foreign and security policy

ad hoc cooperation (same values and interests?)

Global goals (climate, SDGs)

parallel action (different means to same ends?)

Themes in the UK-EU relationship and points for discussion

working with the EU in a changing Europe and challenging world

Understand the EU system, set UK priorities, build relationships with EU institutions and capitals, coordinate UK strategy vis-à-vis EU

Build on points of common interest and benefit in global leadership and influence

Framing questions (2)

- What are the UK's main interests and priorities ref. the EU?
- What can the EU do? EU law and other modes of governance

Competences: what can the EU do? (1)

| European Union                                    |  |  |   | Member States  |
|---|--|--|---|--|
| Exclusive competences                             | Shared competences   | Supporting competences   | Coordination of national policies   | Cooperation EU/ Member States                            |
| Only the EU can legislate and adopt binding acts. | If an EU norm is in force, Member States cannot exercise national competence.Exceptions = 'parallel' competences | The EU cannot harmonise national laws. EU support does not affect national competence. | Member States shape their policies around common objectives and guidelines. | Member States agree to take joint actions and positions. |

- What can the EU do?
- How do EU policies affect the UK?

Discussion

Regulatory alignment v. divergence

*Arguments
for divergence?*

*Possible costs
of divergence?*

Regulatory alignment v. divergence

*Arguments
for divergence?*

- show UK sovereignty
- address UK-specific concerns / different regulatory approaches
- freeing business from EU rules may foster:
  - greater productivity / innovation
  - international competitive advantage

*Possible costs
of divergence?*

- barriers to EU market access / loss of competitiveness in EU
- burden for business (e.g. duplication)
- intra-UK divergence

Trends in the UK-EU regulatory relationship

|--------------------------|--|----|
| Divergence               | active (new UK rules that diverge from EU)                     | 11 |

The broader context of the UK – EU regulatory relationship

International norms and requirements for business
(EU rules often set global norms)

Bilateral limits –
Level Playing Field

Standards
Conformity

Internal impact in UK
(managing intra-UK divergence )

External impact of EU policies

- uploading European standards into international regimes
(‘vertical policy export’)

‘the EU will further engage in active regulatory cooperation, including in international norm setting organisations, by leveraging its financial and regulatory power to help shape global norms and standards.’

Joint Communication HR/Commission on strengthening the EU's contribution to rules-based multilateralism, 17 February 2021

- de facto (some de jure) global regulatory impact (‘the Brussels effect’)

Potential technical barriers to trade

Technical regulations

Example: vehicle regulations – new EU measures on Automated Vehicles, 2022

United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE)
World Forum for Harmonization of Vehicle Regulations (WP.29)

‘the UK appears to have already fallen behind the EU and its Member States in providing the requisite legal certainty for the manufacture of advanced Avs’

- first, EU vehicle legislation—including in relation to automated vehicles—remains applicable in Northern Ireland (NI) under the terms of the Northern Ireland Protocol;
- second, by the Department for Transport’s own admission, the EU has significant influence over international vehicle standards through the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe (UNECE), which the Government says will underpin technical UK legislation in this area;<sup>11</sup> and
- third, the UK and EU automotive industries are closely interconnected and the EU is the largest export market for British manufacturers of vehicles and their components.<sup>12</sup> The automotive sector itself has explicitly expressed a preference for the UK and EU rules to remain convergent, to avoid the need for separate manufacturing requirements when selling AVs in both Great Britain and the EU.<sup>13</sup>

Technical regulations

Standards

Conformity assessment

- no Mutual Recognition Agreement (MRA)

EU Standardisation Strategy, 2022

Commissioner for the Internal Market, Thierry Breton, said: “Technical standards are of strategic importance. Europe's technological sovereignty, ability to reduce dependencies and protection of EU values will rely on our ability to be a global standard-setter. With today's Strategy, we are crystal-clear on our standardisation priorities and create the conditions for European standards to become global benchmarks. We take action to preserve the integrity of the European standardisation process, putting European SMEs and the European interest at the centre”.

Amending Regulation, October 2022 “requiring decisions concerning European standards following mandates from the Commission to be taken only by national standardisations bodies from the EU and EEA member states. This will reinforce the role of member states and avoid the undue influence of foreign actors during the development of standards for key areas, like cybersecurity or hydrogen fuel.

“(EP Press Release)

Example: the proposal for an EU Cyber Resilience Act (CRA)

Procedure 2022/0272/COD

COM (2022) 454: Proposal for a REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL on horizontal cybersecurity requirements for products with digital elements and amending Regulation (EU) 2019/1020

UK businesses “may incur costs” to adapt to these new obligations (in particular if there is divergence between the requirements for the same products under the EU CRA and the UK’s Product Security and Telecommunications Infrastructure Act 2022).

House of Commons, European Scrutiny Committee
Seventeenth Report of Session 2022–23
Documents considered by the Committee on 19 April 2023

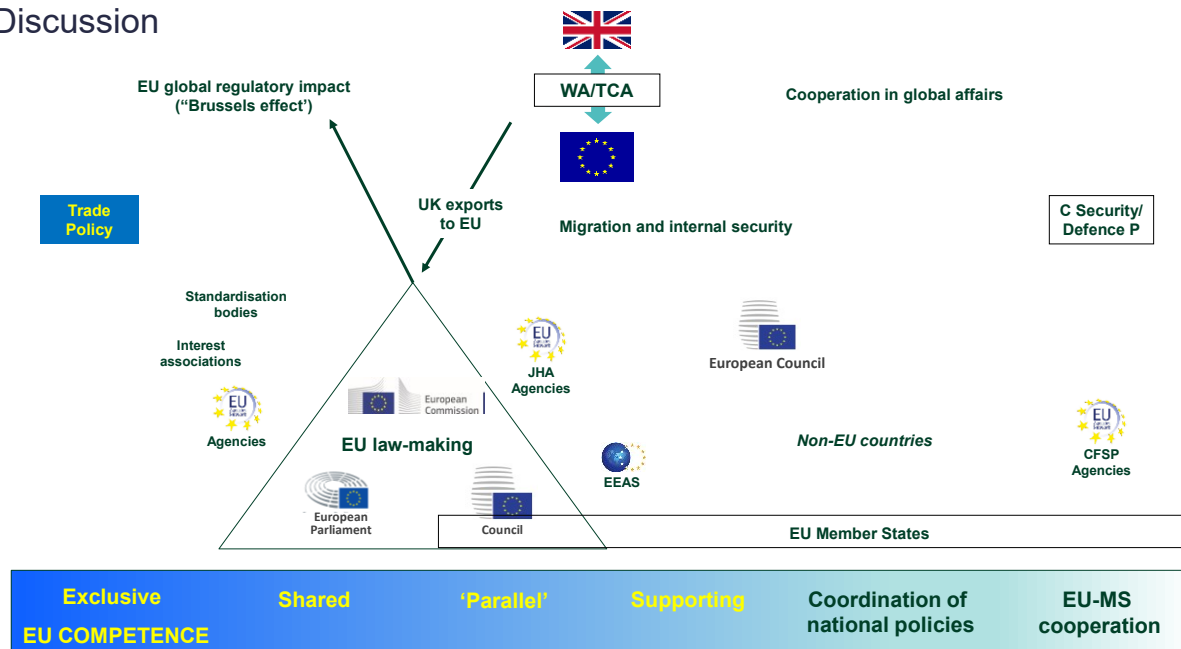

Even if the substantive cyber-security requirements for a particular device were the same in the UK and the EU, there would still be administrative hurdles. In particular, the EU has not indicated it intends to recognise an assessment of the cyber-security performance of a particular product carried out in the UK as valid for assessing compliance with the obligations under the Cyber Resilience Act. The Minister [...] is “look[ing] forward to further discussions with the EU on the prospect of mutual recognition [of conformity assessment] ahead of the CRA being brought into force”. If such talks are successful, that could allow UK-based bodies to carry out conformity assessments on goods destined for the EU market for the purposes of the CRA. The “discussions” to which the Minister refers may be part of a wider exchange of views between the UK and the EU on the mutual recognition of conformity assessments as part of the review of the EU/UK Trade and Cooperation Agreement in 2025.
